Helping Businesses and Communities Succeed

November 19, 2026

Have your say on Time Change

The Government of Prince Edward Island is inviting Islanders to share their views on whether the province should continue changing its clocks twice a year.

Islanders can complete the online survey at PEITimeChange.ca until December 13, 2026. The survey asks whether you prefer to keep the current system or move to year-round standard time or year-round daylight-saving time.

Should PEI keep changing the clocks or move to one time year-round? It's important to understand the options. Please check this website to better informed. Share your feedback through our online survey. Home | Time Change in PEI

PEI Business Podcast: Harvey Stewart & Trout River Industries

Harvey Stewart is the founder of Trout River Industries in Coleman, a small West Prince community. The business is a PEI success story that grew into a global leader in live-bottom trailer manufacturing. Through innovation and entrepreneurship, Harvey built a world-class company, while remaining deeply committed to his community. Listen to Harvey's story HERE.

Client Profile: Mélina pi Gélina

What began as a few humorous videos quickly grew into something much bigger for Debbie Rousselle-Montgomery and Samantha Arsenault, the creators of Mélina pi Gélina. Read their full Client Profile HERE. (link to come)

Through social media videos and live performances, Mélina pi Gélina bring Island Acadian culture to life. Their approach makes people laugh, but it also informs, sparks curiosity, and encourages a greater appreciation for PEI's Acadian heritage.

Artists and creators above all, they knew they needed help developing the business side of their growing venture. That led them to contact RDÉE Î.-P.-É., a partner located at the Rural Action Centre Wellington.

As audience continue to grow and their vision expands, Mélina pi Gélina continue to share the humour, talent, and cultural richness of the Island's Acadian community. The Rural Action Centre Wellington and RDÉE Î.-P.-É. are proud to be part of their journey.
